About the Course

This 4-day training course aims at enabling participants to effectively learn how to use TEX and LaTeX typesetting systems to prepare complex scholarly manuscript with minimum effort. Hence, the content is hardly dividable to multiple proficiency levels and participants are required to take the whole course for effective comprehension of the concept. To achieve the goal, we will deliver the content as a tutorial and workshop sessions in which participants actively involved in learning via several hands-on practices, one-to-one interactions, and individual troubleshooting.
